

Have you often wished . . .

That you could get done with an insurance man and take your problems over without any more fuss and bother? Well, by the way, you can. Write to us now.

J. A. Burke & Co.
Appomattox, Va. Phone 4902

New Three-Year-Old Jersey Champion

Volunteers tied the new national three-year-old Jersey champion for both milk and fat, made much of her record on wheat pasture in the plains country of the Texas parkland. Her owner is former 4-H club member, J. Chester Smith of Tulsa, Texas. Her recorded production is 19,416 lbs. milk, testing 5.50% and 1,977 lbs. fat, beginning test at 3 years 1 month and 1 day.

Can War Surplus to Preserve Market Value

"Canning" in aluminum of valuable war surplus materials, finding all the way from heavy machine tools to delicate instruments and electrical apparatus, points up another use of the metal.

The development of ingenious aluminum "canneries," some of which "breathe" through a drying agent and others of which are hermetically sealed, has come about through experimental contracts with the Ordnance Department of the army for the canning of guns. It has been determined that by such methods all sorts of manufactured articles and materials can be stored in the open for many years without rust, corrosion or deterioration.

By eliminating the necessity for warehousing, this development solved one great problem confronting those interested in storage of surplus war materials, permitting the storage of "canned materials" in the open on government reservations or other open spaces owned by private concerns. Billions of dollars worth of equipment made during the war can conceivably be saved for future use, without the expense of warehousing and constant maintenance before it could be used again.

Find White Coolest

The national bureau of standards in a comparative test of daily mean rise in temperature of test panels of different colors exposed to the sun reported a range from 8.9 degrees F. for glossy white paint to 20.5 degrees for black paint—a difference of 12 degrees. It was found that some unpainted roofing materials were heated almost as hot as the black panel, and in the case of one red roofing material, 21.5 degrees or 6 per cent hotter. Flat white paint was a close second to glossy white in coolness; the difference between the two types of paint being only 2 degrees. Ivory paint showed a rise of 10.2 degrees, canary yellow 10.9 degrees, pearl gray 13.3 degrees, silver gray 13.6 degrees, light lead colored paint, 15.1 degrees, blue colored paint 16.8 degrees, and medium green (from color) 20.4 degrees, or almost as much as black.

Truman bans use of wheat in whisky and beer.

Cooler weather foreseen for the eastern states.

Bethany

Bethany, Feb. 13: David Paulsen is at home after serving four years and nine months in the Army. He is at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Paulsen.

Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Carter, of Evergreen, were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Paulsen recently. Other callers were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cabness and daughter, of near Brookneal.

Those spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Paulsen were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Joe Paulsen, Thomas Glander and Betty Frances Paulsen, of Prospect, and Mrs. Edward Moore, of Charlotte Court House.

Mrs. Larkin Harvey and children and Curtis Paulsen, Dorothy Ann Paulsen visited in the same home on Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mosley and daughter visited Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Paulsen last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Padon and Edwin Padon have returned to Richmond after visiting Mrs. Corinne Paulsen.

Mrs. Rosa Jennings continues to visit her home, Mrs. Jim Woodbridge, until her Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. David Paulsen spent Sunday night and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Harris, of Madisonville.

Mrs. Katie Allen and Otto Allen spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Cabness, of Brookneal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Baker, of Evergreen, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Paulsen Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Paulsen spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Paulsen.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deadman and children, of Petersburg, visited with Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Harvey recently.

Mrs. Mildred Inge, Mr. and Mrs. Toby Inge, of Rocks, and Mrs. Corinne Paulsen, Jerry and Gene Paulsen visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Paulsen Monday night.

UNO alerts 14 judges for international court.

Try a Classified Adv.

State Senate argues anti-union legislation.

County Home Demonstration NEWS

Only the Home Can Round Q State

Mrs. Ella S. Anderson, Home Demonstration Agent

at 10 A. M. in the office of B. G. Anderson, home demonstration agent.

Miss Jamison will give demonstrations on Easter, March 1, on House Cleaning and Buying Bedroom Furnishings. The ladies are urged to attend.

—Mrs. B. G. Anderson, Home Demonstration Agent

Home Demonstration and 4-H Club schedule for the week of February 11-15:

Monday, Feb. 11: Meeting of the Bethany Home Demonstration Club at 10:30 A. M. at the home of Mrs. C. L. Ransom, 2 P. M. Demonstration on meat substitutes by club leader, Mrs. Walter Ransom.

Tuesday, Feb. 12: Oakville 4-H Club meeting at school at 9:15 A. M. Vers 4-H Club meeting at the Agricultural Building at 2:30 P. M.

Wednesday, Feb. 13: The Glenview Home Demonstration Club meeting at school at 9:45 A. M. Vers 4-H Club meeting at the school at 11:00 A. M. Oakville Home Demonstration Club meeting at 2:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. W. M. Moore. Demonstration on meat substitutes to be given by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. V. N. Lewis, club leaders. Poultry and garden leaders will give reports at each meeting.

Friday, Feb. 15: Pamplin 4-H Club meeting at school at 9:45 A. M. Vers 4-H Club meeting at the school at 11:00 A. M. Oakville Home Demonstration Club meeting at 2:30 P. M. at the home of Mrs. W. M. Moore. Demonstration on meat substitutes to be given by Mrs. Moore and Mrs. V. N. Lewis, club leaders. Poultry and garden leaders will give reports at each meeting.

Demonstration for all the 4-H Club girls table setting and table mate. Each girl is asked to bring food bag to make table mate.

Leader Training meeting for the home demonstration club leaders. Miss Mary Jamison, home demonstration specialist, Blacksburg, will meet with the leaders of the 13 home demonstration clubs in the county on Tuesday, February 12.

—Mrs. B. G. Anderson, Home Demonstration Agent

Anchor of Mother Brigittes' (died pupils, Sgt. Arthur Martin, of So. Springs, was in to see us this week. He spent 31 months in the Army, most of which was in Italy, at Orlando, Florida. He says Florida is a swell place.

Everyone seemed to have a fine time at the Legion Auxiliary bazaar Friday night at the school here. Frank Hansen, of Kennebec, Beale, Harry Goin and O. R. Rutledge turned out the mums, with E. T. Mitchell assisting. Lots of the old-time square dancers were out and held their own with the younger generation.

T-5 PAUL R. SEAY

T-5 Paul R. Seay has returned home with an honorable discharge. Corporal Seay served two years and eight months. He served several months overseas, with the 10 Mountain Cavalry Reconnaissance Troop, as a light machine gunner. He had two battle stars, the good conduct medal, American service medal, European African Middle Eastern service medal, World War II victory medal. When he received his discharge he was driving a M4 18-ton full track tractor and towed heavy artillery weapons. His brother, Sgt. Charles Seay, is at home.

Overcoming majority of the firms in the industry have complied and are shipping all of the goods they make as leaders, he said. The earnings of the industry as a whole are at record levels.

Mr. Gans said the shirt situation in the durable field, the following commodities are now bearing OPA price tags: refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios and electrical, phonographs, small appliances such as toasters, toasters, percolators, irons, etc.; lawn mowers; "frankies," interperators; mattresses; luggage, metal beds and metal bed springs; electric and gas ranges; coal and wood stoves; ice boxes; fountain pens; mechanical pencils; and aluminum ware (except articles selling for 30 cents or less).

A reminder that used items such as washing machines, refrigerators and typewriters are under price control when sold by individuals, as well as by dealers, was issued by the OPA.

Oyster dredge bill introduced in general assembly.

House of Delegates gets bill to increase the state income tax.

Leading organizations oppose an increase in state gasoline tax.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kearns are visiting relatives in Roanoke.

Paul W. Capelle, U. S. Navy, is spending a ten-day furlough with his mother here.

Mrs. R. H. Hamilton and children have been visiting in Appomattox.

Patterson declares Army to be further reduced in size.

'Foes' of Black Mesta Feather Their Own Nests

TOKYO — The newspaper Yomiuri Hochi said recently that 24 officials at Osaka who were responsible for prosecuting black market dealers in sugar had opportunities among themselves 1,500 pounds which had been seized as evidence. "Persons concerned in the sugar scandal currently are being punished," the newspaper added.

All Tokyo Restaurants Out of Bounds for Yanks

TOKYO — All restaurants and drinking places in Tokyo have been placed out of bounds for American servicemen. Military police authorities, who imposed the ban after they found generally unsanitary conditions, and the order would be lifted as proprietors clear up their places to meet United States sanitary requirements.

Mr. Nelson Eddy in "THE ELECTRIC HOUR" with Robert Armstrong's Orchestra. Sunday, 4:30 P. M., EST, CBS Network.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

FATHER DARKLEAF

By The Editor

Mr. R. A. Hamilton recently brought a rare old paper to our office. He relates that some time ago some boarding was removed at his home, and between boards was found an old, torn copy of the Christian Advocate and Journal and Zion's Herald. The paper is apparently well over 100 years old. Mr. Hamilton lives in the old Dr. Patterson home place, one of the oldest in this section.

T. S. Swanson Anderson, son of Walter C. Anderson, of Pamplin, paid us a pleasant visit Monday. He returned home on Sunday, after 24 months overseas, 21 of which was spent in the India-Burma area. It was a real pleasure to chat with Sgt. Anderson, for he was a soldier who can tell you the low-down on the many varied parts of the world he saw during the war years. To most of us, India is an unknown world of rare tribes and yet of amazing poverty, fabulous stories and faiths.

T. S. Sgt. Clarence H. Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Austin, also visited this week. He is now in the home of his discharge, after 41 months of Army service, most of which was spent at Sedalia Airfield, Missouri.

We are repeatedly impressed by the fine ratings won by so many of our Appomattox boys who served in the armed forces.

We understand that Malcolm Jones was in town yesterday and regret that we missed seeing him. He is in from overseas.

Speaking of "Jones" brings up another by that name, Frank Jones of Lynchburg, formerly of Spout Spring. Frank hasn't been out of the service long, and is ready to sell automobiles again. He is one of Mother Brigittes' star pupils from her re-schooling days. He and his wife, the former Ruby Cole, likewise formerly of Appomattox, were at the American Legion "barn dance" here Friday night.

Anchor of Mother Brigittes' (died pupils, Sgt. Arthur Martin, of So. Springs, was in to see us this week. He spent 31 months in the Army, most of which was in Italy, at Orlando, Florida. He says Florida is a swell place.

Everyone seemed to have a fine time at the Legion Auxiliary bazaar Friday night at the school here. Frank Hansen, of Kennebec, Beale, Harry Goin and O. R. Rutledge turned out the mums, with E. T. Mitchell assisting. Lots of the old-time square dancers were out and held their own with the younger generation.

T-5 PAUL R. SEAY

T-5 Paul R. Seay has returned home with an honorable discharge. Corporal Seay served two years and eight months. He served several months overseas, with the 10 Mountain Cavalry Reconnaissance Troop, as a light machine gunner. He had two battle stars, the good conduct medal, American service medal, European African Middle Eastern service medal, World War II victory medal. When he received his discharge he was driving a M4 18-ton full track tractor and towed heavy artillery weapons. His brother, Sgt. Charles Seay, is at home.

Overcoming majority of the firms in the industry have complied and are shipping all of the goods they make as leaders, he said. The earnings of the industry as a whole are at record levels.

Mr. Gans said the shirt situation in the durable field, the following commodities are now bearing OPA price tags: refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios and electrical, phonographs, small appliances such as toasters, toasters, percolators, irons, etc.; lawn mowers; "frankies," interperators; mattresses; luggage, metal beds and metal bed springs; electric and gas ranges; coal and wood stoves; ice boxes; fountain pens; mechanical pencils; and aluminum ware (except articles selling for 30 cents or less).

A reminder that used items such as washing machines, refrigerators and typewriters are under price control when sold by individuals, as well as by dealers, was issued by the OPA.

Oyster dredge bill introduced in general assembly.

House of Delegates gets bill to increase the state income tax.

Leading organizations oppose an increase in state gasoline tax.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kearns are visiting relatives in Roanoke.

Paul W. Capelle, U. S. Navy, is spending a ten-day furlough with his mother here.

Mrs. R. H. Hamilton and children have been visiting in Appomattox.

Patterson declares Army to be further reduced in size.

'Foes' of Black Mesta Feather Their Own Nests

TOKYO — The newspaper Yomiuri Hochi said recently that 24 officials at Osaka who were responsible for prosecuting black market dealers in sugar had opportunities among themselves 1,500 pounds which had been seized as evidence. "Persons concerned in the sugar scandal currently are being punished," the newspaper added.

All Tokyo Restaurants Out of Bounds for Yanks

TOKYO — All restaurants and drinking places in Tokyo have been placed out of bounds for American servicemen. Military police authorities, who imposed the ban after they found generally unsanitary conditions, and the order would be lifted as proprietors clear up their places to meet United States sanitary requirements.

Mr. Nelson Eddy in "THE ELECTRIC HOUR" with Robert Armstrong's Orchestra. Sunday, 4:30 P. M., EST, CBS Network.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

TIMES - VIRGINIAN

A Live Weekly Newspaper at Historic Appomattox Court House, Virginia. Established 1892.

VOLUME 54 NUMBER 7

APPOMATTOX, VIRGINIA THURSDAY FEBRUARY 14, 1946

$1.50 PER YEAR; COPY 6c

Urge Planting Tree Seedlings By Land Owners

Orders for forest tree seedlings are now being accepted by the State Forest Nursery, according to announcement today by George W. Dean, State Forester at Charlottesville, Virginia. Seedling, mostly, shortleaf and white pine, locust, yellow poplar, and white ash are available for planting. He said seedlings are available for planting in a cost ranging from $2.75 per thousand for locust and shortleaf pine up to 4.00 per thousand for yellow poplar.

Applications forms should be secured immediately from the County Agricultural Agent, the County Forester or from the State Forester's office. Seedlings are sent via express from the Charlottesville Nursery.

Usually about 1,000 seedlings are required to reforest an acre of open idle land. The seedlings are generally planted about 6 feet apart in rows 7 feet apart. An average man can set 500 to 800 seedlings per acre. Illustrated are complete planting instructions are included with each shipment of seedlings.

The State Forester urged owners of waste or idle land to start a reforestation program by planting a few acres each year. Trees should be planted from March 1 to April 30 east of the Blue Ridge and until May 1 west of the Blue Ridge.

MEN'S SHIRT SUPPLY

Horace B. Gans, OPA District Price Executive, today discounted rumors that some shirt manufacturers have "underground" stocks of men's high-priced shirts on hand that they are unable to market because of JPA maximum average price rulings. Pointing out that a very small percentage of shirt manufacturers have let themselves get into difficulty over the maximum average price program, Mr. Gans explained that the only reason a small majority of firms cannot legally ship some of their higher priced shirts produced in 1945 is that they have been warehoused or failed to comply with the average price regulation.

The overwhelming majority of the firms in the industry have complied and are shipping all of the goods they make as leaders, he said. The earnings of the industry as a whole are at record levels.

Mr. Gans said the shirt situation in the durable field, the following commodities are now bearing OPA price tags: refrigerators, washing machines, vacuum cleaners, radios and electrical, phonographs, small appliances such as toasters, toasters, percolators, irons, etc.; lawn mowers; "frankies," interperators; mattresses; luggage, metal beds and metal bed springs; electric and gas ranges; coal and wood stoves; ice boxes; fountain pens; mechanical pencils; and aluminum ware (except articles selling for 30 cents or less).

A reminder that used items such as washing machines, refrigerators and typewriters are under price control when sold by individuals, as well as by dealers, was issued by the OPA.

Oyster dredge bill introduced in general assembly.

House of Delegates gets bill to increase the state income tax.

Leading organizations oppose an increase in state gasoline tax.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kearns are visiting relatives in Roanoke.

Paul W. Capelle, U. S. Navy, is spending a ten-day furlough with his mother here.

Mrs. R. H. Hamilton and children have been visiting in Appomattox.

Patterson declares Army to be further reduced in size.

'Foes' of Black Mesta Feather Their Own Nests

TOKYO — The newspaper Yomiuri Hochi said recently that 24 officials at Osaka who were responsible for prosecuting black market dealers in sugar had opportunities among themselves 1,500 pounds which had been seized as evidence. "Persons concerned in the sugar scandal currently are being punished," the newspaper added.

All Tokyo Restaurants Out of Bounds for Yanks

TOKYO — All restaurants and drinking places in Tokyo have been placed out of bounds for American servicemen. Military police authorities, who imposed the ban after they found generally unsanitary conditions, and the order would be lifted as proprietors clear up their places to meet United States sanitary requirements.

Mr. Nelson Eddy in "THE ELECTRIC HOUR" with Robert Armstrong's Orchestra. Sunday, 4:30 P. M., EST, CBS Network.

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

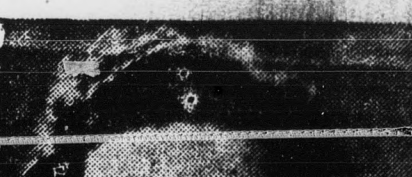

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND IN THIS ISSUE

Read DREW PEARSON'S

Married by Telephone

A marriage ceremony by trans-Atlantic telephone united an English girl and an American naval veteran recently. The bride, Miss Leora Groves of Fourth, England, was married by Murray Petersen, who was in Bremerton, Wash., 6,000 miles away from the English town. They met at a dance in Petersburg where Petersen was in charge of a company making landing craft.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store," and with H. P. Inge and L. J. Morris added as partners. In 1919 Mr. Inge bought the Inge and Morris business and later sold same to the Farmers National Bank for a year, before moving to Texas. Returning to Appomattox, he entered the clothing business, and again, this time in a frame building near the old tobacco warehouse, moving to the present location on the Gregg building on Main Street in 1924.

Mr. Inge began his business career in Appomattox in 1911, with the firm of Inge and Morris. In 1915 he bought the building of the brick store, later known as the "Burge store,"